NOTE.

THE following collection, though small, contains a number of remarkable pieces. The Proof Dollar of 1795, the Quarter Dollars of 1796 and 1823, the Bank of Montreal Penny Token of 1838, the objects of Onyx, Jasper and Agate, and of Malachite, Azurite, and the other rare copper minerals, are commended to special attention. The few rare Oriental Numismatic Books, and the U. S. Fractional Currency, on account of its fineness, may be particularly mentioned.

The writer is pained to say, that owing to his increased difficulty of vision, he has been compelled to forego his usual careful reading of the proofs of this Catalogue, and trust the same to an assistant, who has used every effort to insure correctness, and apologizes for any unintentional failure.

CATALOGUE.

SILVER DOLLARS.

- 170 1 1795 Fillet head ; fine.
- 100 2 1795 Flowing hair ; fine, excepting a small bruise on the edge.
- 4050 3 1795 Fillet head. A magnificent dollar, ^{very} equal in quality to the Randall proof dollar ; see Randall Catalogue, No. 77. The obverse of this splendid dollar is a proof, slightly blemished by contact with the fingers ; a sharp, beautiful impression, the reverse even finer than the obverse. Mr. Randall always held his specimen at $300 ; it sold at auction for $113.
- 175 4 1796 Fillet head ; a very fine dollar, but ~~little~~ circulated.
- 220 5 1796 Fillet head, small date ; ~~unusually~~ fine.
- 270 6 1797 Seven stars facing. ~~Sharp impression~~ ; unusually fine.
- 210 7 1798 Small eagle reverse. Rare variety.
- 150 8 1798 Large eagle ; very fine indeed, scarce.
- 140 9 1799 Very fine.
- 230 10 1799 Five stars facing ; good and very scarce.
- 150 11 1800 Good impression.
- 160 12 1801 Fine, scarce.
- 145 13 1802 Very good and scarce. This is the dollar from which the most successful 1804 alterations are made.
- 170 14 1803 Good impression, fine, rare.
- 150 15 1803 Very fine, slightly circulated, rare.

- 625 16 1836 Flying eagle, Liberty seated; struck proof, blemished by ~~handling~~, rare.
 110 17 1842 Polished surface, fine.
 115 18 1843 About as fine.
 125 19 1844 Fine surface and a good dollar.
 125 20 1845 As good as the last.
 150 21 1848 Fine impression, good, scarce.
 135 22 1848 Good, from a different die.
 115 23 1850 This date was formerly deemed scarce; the dollar is a fine one and the date is by no means common.
 125 24 1853 Very good, scarce.
 220 25 1854 Somewhat worn; a fair dollar and very scarce.
 290 26 1855 Like the last, very scarce.
 140 27 1856 About as scarce as '55; good.
 125 28 1856 Equally scarce; better than the last.
 140 29 1857 Good impression with polished surface, fine, scarce.
 115 30 1859 Fine surface; a little scarce.
 70 31 1865 Pattern Dollar. Struck in copper at the U. S. Mint; proof, a little rubbed, a beautiful coin.
 110 32 1870 Standard Dollar; fine, scarce.
 110 33 1872 Very good.
 105 34 1873 Standard Dollar; good.
 135 35 1878 Standard Dollar; brilliant proof.
 110 36 1880 Standard Dollar; brilliant proof.
 105 37 1881 Standard Dollar; brilliant proof.
 105 38 1882 Standard Dollar; brilliant proof, a trifle tarnished.
 105 39 1883 Standard Dollar; brilliant proof.

HALF DOLLARS.

- 330 40 1794 Excellent for this date; seldom found better, rare.
 3700 41 1797 Fifteen stars, seven to right, eight to left; very good indeed, fine for the date, extremely rare, the rarest of the half-dollar series.
 220 42 1801 Very good, nearly fine, rare.
 70 43 1813 Unusually fine.
 215 43a 1836 With Gobrecht head; reeded or milled edge, unusually good, rare.
 40 44 1865 Pattern piece struck in copper; originally proof, fine.

QUARTER DOLLARS.

- 100 45 1796 Considerably worn, still fine, rare.
- 31.00 46 1796 A ~~brilliant proof impression~~, the hair and eagle's breast ~~almost imperceptibly~~ blemished by friction in the cabinet; see Randall's plate No. 546; this is No. 2 of Randall, the difference in the two dies Nos. 545-546, as shown in the plate, is almost imperceptible; a finer quarter dollar than this has scarcely ever been seen.
- 610 47 1804 A little rubbed, still fine or very fine.
- 530 47a 1804 Almost equal to the last; rare.
- 40 48 1805 Two samples, both good, scarce.
- 45 49 1805 Good, better than the last, scarce.
- 45 50 1806 Very good, nearly fine, scarce; date overstruck.
- 35 51 1806 About as good.
- 35 52 1806 Nearly as good as last, about the same quality, scarce.
- 47 53 1807 Fair, better than the last two.
- 25 54 1807 Fair.
- 00 55 1815 Very good, without the usual letter over the head, scarce.
- 50 56 1815 Nearly as good, scarce.
- 35 57 1815 Fair, scarce.
- 45 58 1818 Fine, seldom found so good.
- 30 59 1818 Not so good.
- 25 60 1819 Fair.
- 35 61 1819 Smaller stars, date differently spaced; fair.
- 95 62 1820 Fine, almost very fine.

 35 116 1794 Large planchet, very good, nearly fine.
 27 117 1794 Smaller planchet, very good.
 19.50 118 1795 A beautiful cent, barely circulated and of fine color ; about equal to the cent which is known to all dealers as the Jones cent, purchased by Mr. Burton, of Geneva Lake ; this has usually been described as uncirculated, and can scarcely be considered less ; in this condition for rarity it is unsurpassed, being probably as fine a cent of the date as exists.

- 60 119 1795 Thick planchet; ~~not~~ much circulated but injured by some bruises on the edge.
- 50 120 1795 Not much circulated ; good.

THE WASHINGTON WATCH.

- 2000
736 An ancient silver watch said to have been found on the person of Major André, and presented by the hand of Washington to Isaac Van Wart, one of the captors. Purchased in 1878 from a son of Isaac Van Wart, then living in New Jersey. The younger Mr. Van Wart exhibited at the time a manuscript on parchment cotemporary with the Revolution, giving details of the capture of André, his execution, and other incidents of the war, all in the handwriting of Isaac Van Wart, the captor. For this manuscript the owner refused an offer of $300 at the time, but for the watch itself he consented to take and received $40. Since its presentation the watch has continued in running order till a recent period; it is of the bull's-eye pattern, so-called, and bears the maker's name, T. Moore, London. It is engraved on the back, James Oglethorpe, Feb. 7th, 1725. The reverse is engraved in script, John André, 1768, and the watch is supposed to be the one offered to the captors as a consideration to release André.

- 15 860 Temple Coins. Struck from the years 1200 to 1600. In the latter year the Tycoon prohibited temples from issuing coins, since which none have been made. Several are of large size, being size 48 and below. By Japanese Numismatists many are declared to be very rare. The metals are various, being mostly of copper or bronze, some apparently of silver. The characters, as usual, bearing a striking resemblance to those of China; to the unlearned man their significance is not striking. Many of these pieces in Japan are among the rarest of coins; some are of medal size, singular in form, and with strange Japanese inscriptions. No duplicates. 112 pieces. This cabinet is contained in a box of eleven compartments and bound with a worsted tape.

PROOF SETS AND PROOF COINS.

All the following proof coins and proof sets are from the Randall Collection. They are all in perfect condition as received from the mint. They are offered as received without any cleaning, and are usually in perfect, brilliant condition. The sets of 1880 and 1882 are all that are left of Mr. Randall's immense stock, and I know of no one that has any considerable number on hand. They must soon become rare, and I doubt not must largely appreciate in value.

MINOR PROOF SETS.

The following lots of minor proofs are all from the stock of Mr. J. Colvin Randall, and include all of his immense remaining stock on hand. It was the fashion for all dealers to order largely from the mint of minor proofs, but the restrictions placed on the purchase by dealers have made them very scarce, and they will never be as common as heretofore. No reservation is made of any portion of this stock, but it is all sold entire in this sale, and I do not believe a similar stock can ever again be offered.

A FEW GEM COINS.

A consignment from a collector in England.

- 8⁰⁰ 1518 1838 Bank of Montreal Penny Token; splendid, uncirculated and perfect. In my 89th sale, see No. 1523, I described a token of 1839 as of 1838. I had many communications concerning the piece and numerous orders. Notwithstanding the error, the piece sold I think for $41. After the sale a dealer present announced, that but for the error it would have brought $200, for which sum he had an order for the 1838 on its catalogue description, which the curious collector will please refer to. Though the 1838 of this variety is estimated in Canada and England as much more rare than 1839, I still believe them to be of an equal degree of rarity. This piece was bought of a distinguished dealer in Manchester, England, and was held by him at £40 or $200. It is offered for sale with no limitation as to price. It is probable that no finer specimen exists, and its rarity is sufficiently indicated by what has been said.
- 4⁵⁰ 1519 1791 Washington Cent; rev. has small eagle; bronze, nearly, scarcely less than proof, very rare, edge lettered "United States of America."
- 5⁰⁰ 1520 1793 Washington, President; rev., a ship. Called the Liverpool Halfpenny; bronze, very fine, almost proof, edge lettered "Payable in Anglesey, London, or Liverpool;" rare.
- 3⁰⁰ 1521 Silver Ingot, or money of necessity of Burmah. This ingot, cast by the native Burmese, was used for the purpose of a contribution to the cause of foreign missions under the auspices of the American Baptist Board of Missions, and forms part of a single contribution to that cause of many thousands of dollars. I rescued all these pieces from the melting pot, and this is one of the few that escaped the missionaries. It is pure silver, and its weight nearly two ounces.
- 11 1522 Free Ticket for Salt River direct. A scarce Token; copper, proof. 5 pcs.
- 10 1523 A number of Siege Coins. Becker's counterfeits. One square. 2 pcs.

¹⁴⁰1537 William and Mary Pattern Sixpence; silver, fine, rare.
⁵⁵1538 1827 Half Dollar; very fine, almost proof.
²⁰⁰1539 Little obscene Japanese Medal. Neither device or inscription will bear description. Curious; fine.

A LITTLE CONSIGNMENT.

The remainder of a small collection formed by a Union soldier. The volume entitled "Silver Sheaves," No. 1545, below, is a true history of his life as a soldier, and before. It includes a heart-rending account of how his eyes were torn from the sockets by the Confederate miscreants into whose hands he fell. It also gives his trials and struggles since the war closed, and portrays his efforts to earn an honest livelihood, together with his successes in achieving his endeavors.

- ³1540 Sutler's Checks in German silver, copper, nickel, etc.; various sizes and denominations; from different regiments; a fine lot: many scarce. The collection contains a number of checks for drayage. 100 pcs.

- 4 1541 A Collection of Store Cards, large and small; a goodly number are scarce; some are very rare. 40 pcs.
- 2 1542 Foreign Coins, mostly European, large and small. 20 pieces.
- 2 1543 Asiatic Coins; one Tempo, two Cash or Tsien; all good. 3 pcs.
- 100 1544 Two Ancient Coins; said to have been dug up at Jerusalem, and that they are 3000 and 3500 years old respectively. 2 pcs.
- 35 1545 Life and portrait of Wm. H. Sallada; 8vo, illustrated, bound in green cloth. A narrative of thrilling interest. Mr. Sallada has written a most interesting account of his life in the army; and, notwithstanding his disadvantages, he has led for years a most industrious and useful life, having invented and constructed a number of ingenious and desirable articles of household use, — thus by his life putting to shame many much more favorably situated.

The following nine lots comprise the debris of what at one time promised to be one of the finest collections of coins in Boston.

- 50 1546 1858 Spanish Half Dollar; fine.
- 45 1547 Portraits of Lincoln and Garfield; silver, proof, very scarce.
- 200 1548 Bust of Washington; "In God we Trust"; silver, proof. Mr. Prosky declares that there were but five struck in silver, and Swett, who cut the dies, guarantees the statement.
- 35 1549 The Martyr Presidents. Lincoln and Garfield; silver, proof.
- 65 1550 1863 Pattern Five Cent piece. Head of Washington, "In God we Trust"; rev., stars and numeral, "United States of America"; silver, proof, very rare.

CALIFORNIA GOLD OF THE PIONEERS.

- 2.65c 1561 Twenty Dollars of standard weight. A large double eagle with upraised wings; in his beak a scroll.
inscribed "Liberty". "United States of America, Twenty D."; rev., a tablet bearing the inscription,
"United States Assay Office of Gold, San Francisco, California, 1853." The coins of necessity struck in California at about the time of discovery, have all become very rare, even at their place of issue, where they now command a premium. Several varieties sell at many times their value for metal.

- 1.⁰⁰ 1746 A Purse made of the fibre of the pineapple; of bright colors.
- 1.⁰⁰ 1747 Another Purse of the same material and colors.
- 2.²⁵ 1748 A Spanish or Mexican Knife. Bought of Mr. St. Hill of the Hotel Iturbide. Curved blade of flaming sword pattern; a dangerous looking implement. Cost $4.50.
- 1.⁵ 1749 A Strawberry Basket bought at Queretaro, at which place it is remarked that strawberries can be bought fresh every day of the year. 7 inches in diameter, 3 in. deep.

260 1750 Fire Opal. From the mines of Queretaro.

These little opals have been mounted in New York as scarf-pins in 14 carat gold. They vary in weight from $\frac{3}{4}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ carats, and are very pretty. The writer undertook the journey to Queretaro mainly to purchase opals, which he had been misinformed were very common at that place. On his arrival he found that the mine was producing few gems; indeed, a few hundred dollars would have sufficed to purchase the entire stock in the hands of the miners and dealers.

- 275 1751 Fire Opal. Queretaro. A little more than 1 carat.
 3.00 1752 Fire Opal. Queretaro. Long; a little larger.
 2.25 1753 Fire Opal. Queretaro. Extra fine.

 2.20 1757 Fire Opal. Queretaro. A size larger; about 1 carat.
 2.38 1758 Fire Opal. Queretaro. About like 1753.
 2.75 1759 Fire Opal. Queretaro. A slender oval stone; fine.
 2.00 1760 Fire Opal. Queretaro. Nearly round; fine.
 2.40 1760a Mexican Opal of large size. About one inch in length.
 Cost $7.

MEXICAN POTTERY.

This and the few following vessels were bought at Guanajuato. The pottery of this place is particularly esteemed. This vessel and the next surpass in beauty anything I met with elsewhere in Mexico.

- 4.50 1761 Bottle or Vase elaborately ornamented in silver and gold. Height $11\frac{3}{4}$ in., diameter $7\frac{1}{2}$ in.
 5.40 1762 A mate to the last, and similar. This piece was unfortunately cracked on its transit from Mexico. A pair of similar objects, but much inferior to these, cost me years ago in California $6.
 3.50 1763 Love Bottle. Red ware ornamented in colors: grotesque and curious shape. Height 12 in., dia. $6\frac{1}{2}$ in.
 2.5 1763a Fragments of Mexican Pottery. Portions showing a red and black glaze with ornaments of arabesque patterns. This pottery is undoubtedly of the most ancient description found in Mexico. It is still dug up by the natives within the ancient ruins. One piece hollow, resembling a bird's nest, another, the base or leg of a vessel. Three or four inches square, some smaller. 6 pcs.

- 15 1764 Chocolate Cup. Purple and red. Height 4 in.
- 15 1765 Chocolate Cup. Used as a cover for a bottle; ornaments, silver and gilt. Height 4 in.
- 3.5 1766 Views at Pike's Peak and at Manitou. The Garden of the Gods, etc. Photographs, bound.
- 2.5 1767 Views at Manitou and in the Garden of the Gods. Pike's Peak in the distance.
- 2.5 1768 Views at San Antonio. The Alamo in a state of siege. The Alamo as now seen. A column erected here bears the laconic statement: "Thermopylae had its messenger of defeat, the Alamo had none." At this siege it will be remembered that Col. Crockett and his brave associates were put to the sword by order of Santa Anna, in violation of the most solemn treaties. Here, to the curious visitor, the spot is pointed out where these heroes fell in groups under the ruthless slaughter.

A FEW VIEWS IN MEXICO.

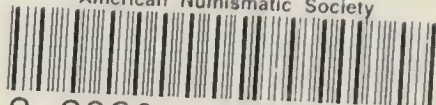

- 5.0 1769 View of the Noche Triste tree, or "The Tree of the Sorrowful Night." This tree is still standing as it was when Cortes invaded Mexico. It is related that Cortes wept beneath this tree while his army fled before the victorious Mexicans and Aztecs. The tree is still in good condition, though mutilated by the Mexican vandals who have sought its destruction during the last few years.
- 15 1770 A Native Mexican Family. Father, mother and children.
- 15 1771 A Mexican Group. The loaded Burro seems the most important of the party; he is certainly the most useful.
- 15 1772 Statue of Guatemozin. Erected on the grand boulevard leading out of Mexico.
- 1c 1773 Vendors and Manufacturers of Ollas. Different. Two views.
- 1c 1774 Interior of a Mexican Restaurant.
- 1c 1775 Mexican woman grinding corn on the Matate for Tortillas.
- 1c 1776 Mexican ploughing. The plough and the team. 2 ps.

- 10 1777 A Bull Fight. View of the enclosure.
- 20 1778 The Pyramid of Cholula. View of the chapel surmounting the same. Cholula is, perhaps, the most interesting of Mexican views, not surpassed even by the Egyptian Pyramids, which it rivals in extent.
- 10 1779 Natural baths at Aguascalientes.
- 10 1780 A Mexican group. Loaded Burros, etc.
- 10 1781 A Mexican State or Religious Procession with banners, etc.
- 10 1782 Mexican Street Group.
- 10 1783 Mexican Family outside of an adobe house or hut.
- 10 1784 Catalogue and Photographs of the Archaeological and Historical Collections in the National Museum at Mexico. At this Museum is shown the Aztec Calendar Stone, the Sacrificial Stone, and many of the huge, hideous divinities of Mexico. The significance of the Aztec Calendar is still uninterpreted. The Sacrificial Stone needs no interpretation, but it is well known that hundreds of thousands of victims were sacrificed thereon to the sun and other gods of the Mexicans. From a deep cavity in the centre, the blood drained off after the throat had been cut and the heart torn out in these terrible rites. Visiting this Museum, which is inexpressibly rich in objects of archaeology and art, our interpreter mentioned that a gentleman was present who had come all the way from Boston with the express design of viewing the objects here deposited. The Museum had been partially closed for repairs for some time, but an official in authority threw the rooms open, detailed a guide, and freely exhibited to us everything which we wished to see. This appears the more gratifying, as the papers of the respective countries seem to foster a spirit of hostility between the two republics, a feeling which the people seem not to favor or participate in; for during an extended tour in that country, the writer witnessed no act of impoliteness or incivility, but on the contrary, the most carefully studied effort to make our journey agreeable and pleasant. This was supplemented by the liberal manner in which these chiefest treasures of Mexico in Archaeology and Art were freely exhibited to our inspection. 2 pes.
- 25 1785 Playing Cards. Spanish. Used in Mexico. A full pack. 40 pes.

- 30 1786 Programme of a Bull Fight in the City of Mexico. In this fight six bulls were killed; one horse and two men were also slaughtered. The party attending it was composed largely of New England people, numbering a large proportion of ladies. The savagery and brutality of a bull fight is known to all men; but the writer is compelled to say that at this exhibition no one either sickened or fainted, and he is not aware that anyone of the party declined to be present at the fight.
- 10 1787 Brief Guide to Mexico City.
- 10 1788 Souvenir Menu. Raymond and Whitcomb's Excursion Party. Dinner.
- 15 1789 Souvenir of a visit to the shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe. Contains a picture quite as natural, though not so "large as life."
- 15 1790 Portrait of the "Old Leather Man." This old man has, for thirty or fifty years, wandered about the hills of Connecticut, harmless and inoffensive, and lodging in holes in the earth, under trees, etc. It is a fact well known to old residents, that a man who appears to have been his prototype and predecessor, attired in the same quaint garb, wandered over the same hills nearly a century ago. This last mentioned man is only dimly remembered by a few aged residents, and inquiries, widely spread, have failed to elicit any information concerning him. But the "Old leather Man" of the present time is well known, though his history is shrouded in mystery. As usual with such characters an old love story hangs about him, and a fortune is said to await his return to France, which he left many years ago, and whence he has been pursued in this country quite recently. 2 pcs.
